A Cure for the Piles! TAVING BEEN AFFLICTED 26 YEARS with this terrifying disease, and finding no relief, I finally discovered a VEGETABLE OINTMENT, which, I beleive, is unparalleled in its efficacy. Having cured myself, and many others, I now offer this remedy to the publicas the most speedy cure ever discovered. It is no Northern humbug. LEGISLATURE OF NORTH CAROLINA. SATURDAY, Nov. 20th, 1858.

The Senate was called to order shortly after ten o'clock.

RESOLUTIONS, BILLS, &c. Mr. Boyd introduced a resolution relative to the distribution of the Revised Code amongst the justices of the peace, which led to considerable discussion, and was finally referred to the committee on the judiciary. Mr. McDonnell, a bill to amend the 15th section 119th chapter of the Revised Code respecting probate of wills. The bill proposes for a return to the old law requiring one witness instead of two, as at present. Referred to the committee on the judi-

Mr. Bledsoe, (by request,) a bill to incorporate the Raleigh Gaslight Company. Read first time, ordered to be printed, and referred to the committee on corporations. The Spea er drew attention to the law relative to the introduction of private bills, &c., into the Legislature, requiring published notice to be proved. Mr. Davidson introduced a bill to repeal the 27th sec. of 61st chap. Revised Code. Referred to the committee on internal improvements Mr. Leach proposed that a message be sent to the House informing that body that the Senate was in need of business, and to intimate that in the event of their not furnishing business, the Senate would adjourn. Ruled out of order. Mr. Turner would give the gentleman from Johnston, (Mr. L.) something to do, and proceeded, in a speech of considerable humor, to descant upon the profligacy of office-hunters in general. He concluded by moving that a message be sent to the House proposing to go, forthwith, into the election of U. S. Senator for the short term. Mr. Edney made a graceful fling at Mr. Turner, and moved to lay his resolution on the table. Adopted by 27 to 15-a close party vote, the democrats voting to lay on the table Mr. Martin moved to adjourn, but gave way to Mr. Flanner, who introduced a bill to incorporate the Newbern Light Infantry. Read first time.

Mr. McDonald introduced a resolution requiring the Legislature to provide means to pay its appropriations. Read first time. Mr. Ramsay proposed a suspension of the rules to enable the bill to be put upon its second reading .-

Almost a unanimous negative. Mr. Flanner moved that the rules be suspended, that his bill to incorporate the Newbern Light Infantry be put upon its second reading. Negatived. Mr. Donnell introduced a bill to encourage and promote the planting of oysters and clams, and moved the bill be referred to the committee on the judiciary. Mr. Steele hardly thought that the proper committee, as the bill proposed something about "planting." He thought the committee on agriculture more appropriate. Mr. Donnell. That comes from a fresh water Senator. (Continued laughter.) Mr. Steele. I made the remark in a jocular spirit, Mr. Speaker; I arose to intimate that I intended to (loud laughter) if we had such a one, would be the propose a committee on agriculture. Mr. Humphrey proposed that the bill be printed. Mr. Miller opposed the printing. Mr. Leach supported it. Mr. Humphrey said it was a very important bill, and he hoped the gentleman would not oppose the printing. Mr. Donnell said the bill affected the interests of a large section of the country, and it was important that people interested should know its provisions.

The motion to print was adopted. Mr. Steele now moved that a committee on agriculture be added to the list of standing committees, and asked publicly not to be included in its members, as his knowledge of "planting" was limited.

Motion concurred in. Mr. Flanner moved that the bill to incorporate the Newbern Light Infantry be referred to the committee on corporations. Adopted. Mr. Ramsay moved for a message to be sent to the House to go into the election of U. S. Senator, short

Mr. Lane move to lay on the table. Adopted by the same vote as before. Mr. Turner proposed that, as the Senate was resolved not to go into the election for the short term, a message be sent proposing the long term.

Mr. Martin proposed to adjourn, but by request, gave way to allow Mr. Turner to proceed, which he accordingly did in a very amusing but by no means instructive or interesting speech of some length. Mr. Edney followed, and twitted the minority for their anxiety in a matter of which they knew little and could take no part. He concluded by moving to lay Mr. Turner's motion on the table, but gave way to allow the gentleman to reply.

Mr. Turner replied briefly. Mr. Bledsoe had hoped to have a song from the gentleman from Orange. (Laughter.) Mr. Turner. You can pray for us. (Continued laughter.) Mr. Edney. One of the gentlemen voted for prayers and the other for singing. Suppose they unite and let us have both. But Mr E. protested against levity. Mr. Martin now renewed his motion to adjourn.

till Monday morning.

MONDAY, Nov. 22, 1858.

The Senate was called to order at 11 o'clock. The Speaker announced that in accordance with the rule of the Senate, he had invited Rev. Dr. Mason to open the session of that morning with prayer. Dr. Mason accordingly offered up several approoriate and impressive prayers, which were devoutly istened to, it may be heartily re-echoed, by the whole assembly. On motion of Mr. Gorrell, Mr. Jno. Poole, Senator elect from the First District, consisting of the counties of Pasquotank and Perquimans, presented his credentials, was duly qualified, and took his seat.

RESOLUTIONS. Mr. Steele introduced a resolution, instructing the committee on Finance to take into consideration the question of taking the tax lists; and the propriety of empowering County Courts to appoint persons other than justices of the peace, to take tax lists, and to report by bill or otherwise. Adopted. Mr. Martin introduced the following resolution, which was also adopted: Resolved, That the committee on the Judiciary be instructed to enquire into the expediency of altering the present mode of voting by ballot in all elections by the people of this State, and consider the propriety of recommending the mode of voting viva roce in lieu thereof, and that they report by bill or other-

Mr. Bledsoe introduced a resolution instructing the committee on Finance to report a Revenue Bill on the advalorem principle.

Mr. McDowell moved, as an amendment, that the committee be instructed to "enquire into the expediency" of introducing said bill. Mr. Bledsoe accepted the amendment, and the resolution, as amended, was adopted. It is as fol-

Resolved, That the committee on Finance are hereby instructed to enquire into the expediency of reporting a Revenue Bill on the advalorem principle, embracing, as far as it may be done consistently with the Constitution and the interests of the people, the entire property of the State; and a capitation and specified tax upon such persons, property, &c., as are not the legitimate subjects of taxation advalorem.

Mr. Steele introduced a resolution justructing the committee on Finance to enquire into the expediency of altering the time at which County Revenue shall be due and collectable, and to report by bill or otherwise. Adopted.

Mr. Brown introduced a bill to incorporate the Milton and Yanceyville Junction Railroad Company Read first time, referred to the committee on Internal Improvements, and ordered to be printed. Mr. Houston, a bill to create and establish Courts of Common Pleas, and for other purposes. Read first time, referred to committee on judiciary, and ordered to be printed. Mr. Lankford, a bill to provide for the election of Clerks and Masters in Equity by the people. Read first time, referred to Judiciary committee, ordered to be printed. A message received from the House transmitting the names of the House branch of certain joint committees.

The Clerk announced the names of the senate branch of several joint cmmittees. WARMING AND LIGHTING THE CHAMBERS. Mr. Humphrey, from the joint select committee appointed to enquire into the expediency of adopting some more effectual means of lighting and heating both halls of the General Assembly, reported a bill in favor of lighting said halls with gas. The committee recommended no change in the mode of heating. From the estimates accompanying the report, it appears that the entire cost of all the fittings necesary effectually to light the halls, including two thirty-light chandeliers, will be $2,300, and that the ordinary expense of lighting afterwards will not exceed that of candles. The bill was read the first time. BILLS ON THEIR SECOND READING ..

The Speaker announced that two bills without a reference would now be put upon their second reading. The first was a bill introduced by Mr. Turner, to abolish the qualification for jurors.

Mr. Steele suggested that as the gentleman from Orange, (Mr. T.,) was not in his seat, the bill had better be referred. Mr. McDowell moved that it be referred to the committee on Constitutional Reform.

The Speaker intimated that the bill contemplated no constitutional change. Mr. Carmichael moved that it be referred to the committee on the Judiciary. Adopted. The second bill was one introduced by Mr. Mc-Donald, requiring the Legislature to provide means to meet its appropriations.

Entries and Grants. RESOLUTIONS, SECOND READING. The Resolution to rescind the Rule relative to

Chaplains beeing read,

Mr. Foy was opposed to the rule and all laws that tended to connect Church and State. He considered the rule one link in the chain to connect them. He instanced England and Mexico as priest ridden countries. If the rule was allowed to stand it would work injustice, and would certainly end by the Chaplains seeking votes for the office like politicians. He reverenced and regarded true religion but was utterly opposed to this measure. It would retard legislation and take up the time that ought to be devoted to public business. Mr. F. quoted Holy Writ to prove that prayer ought to be in secret, and instanced the Pharisee and the Publicans as a case in point. Religion ought not to enter into the Cap-itol, but if it did it ought to be at a different hour from that of the Legislature and it might then be attended by all who sought the salvation of their souls. It would be injustice to his constituents to hold his peace. It was no time or place to hold religious services; besides it was probable a bill would be introduced at the close of the session to pay the ministers and thus take the money of the people. He hoped the House would concur with him and rescind the resolution as he would not sit present at such services. Mr. Eller moved to lay the resolution on the table but withdrew it by request of Mr. Byrd, who was opposed to the rule on the ground that there was a party in the House called the American party, one of whose principles was opposition to Catholicity. and he had a strong objection to inflict prayers by a Catholic upon them. Besides the rule recognized the equality of Catholics with other churches which he was not prepared to admit. He was not opposed to prayer, but for the reasons stated he was opposed to the rule and would support the resolution.

Mr. Gaither, of Iredell, opposed the resolution and took occasion to declare, though a member of the American party, he had no objection to slate in the prayers of a Catholic clergyman, but thought it very doubtful, if many of the members of that House would ever reach the Land of Canaan. The motion to lay on 'the table being renewed was adopted Yeas 69, nays 44.

BILLS ON THEIR SECOND READING. The bill in favor of W. B. Abbott, extending the time for constructing a canal to drain swamps in Albemarle county. Mr. Ferebee explained the circumstances under which the bill was required. It was merely to extend time sufficient to finish a work of great utility. upon which much money and time had been expended; it was a private work carried on by individuals Mr. D. F. Caldwell took occasion to speak against the law which required the passage of such a bill and hoped when another bill opening the Buckingham coal fields came before them the House would show equal liberality by allowing his people to construct a road over their own lands with their own money. Mr. C. was understood to allude to the Danville connection. The bill passed the second reading, and at a later hour the rules were suspended and the bill read the third time and sent to the The House then adjourned.

A Dog Story. - The New York correspondent o the Portsmouth Journal narrated the following: f It has always been a belief of mine that animals of the dumb creation think, all arguments to the contrary notwithstanding, and I have recently heard a dog story from some Portsmouth friends resident in Brooklyn, that has increased my faith in the matter. Some neighbors of theirs have a very fine specimen of a Newfoundland dog, who, if half I heard of him be true, can do almost anything but talk. Not long since his mistress said to him, "Ponto, you may go out in the front yard and stay half an hour, but don't go outside of the gate." After he had been gone a short time, his well-known knock was heard at the door, and, on being opened, Ponto was discovered accompanied by a half-starved, abject looking object of his own species, with one of his legs disabled, which he induced to follow him into the front basement, and lie down on a nice soft mat near the door. He then went into the kitchen and intimated to Bridget that he wanted his usual forenoon's lunch, which having procured, he took it to his new friend, laid it down before him, and looked with evident satisfaction while he ate it.

As Ponto's mistress did not want a boarder of that discription, she told him he must introduce his new friend into the street again, which he pretended at first not to understand, but, finally, in a very apologetic way, however, did as he was ordered, assisting his unfortunate companion up two or three steps into the street, and looking after him as he limped on his way, with a sad and troubled countenance. Of his character as a night watch, I learn that one night during the past summer he discovered that the front door had been inadventently left open.— He knew that was not correct, although the outside blind door was fastened by a dead latch; so he went to his master's bed-room, waked him up, and would not leave the room until he followed him down stairs and closed the door. He is thought to be worth three star policemen, and a pair of private watchmen in addition.

TEA AND OTHER PLANTS OF CHINA.—The Commissioner of Patents has received advices from Mr. Fortune, dated Shanghai, August 10, accompained by three packages of seed. The largest package contains a species of Brassica, which is cultivated largely in the province of Chekiang for its oil. The Chinese esteem it highly for burning in lamps, as well as for culinary purposes; the Ningpo ladies The other packets contain two varieties of a kind of turnip-radish, called "Lobba" by the natives.

Since the 1st of March, Mr. Fortune has visited various great tea districts, and made arrangements with the natives for large supplies of tea and other seeds and plants at the proper season. The unsettled state of the country does not appear to have interfered with his plans in the slightest degree. He has been kindly received by the people everywhere. Addison wrote that "a comet is a skyrocket discharged by a hand that is almighty." As much interest has gathered about the late brilliant skyrocket, what a British astronomer, Mr. Hinds, states, as to its future, may give satisfaction. "After it is lost in Europe," he says "the comet will traverse the southern extremity of the constellation Sagittarius and thence pass through Telescopium into Indus, where it will be found about Christmas, the same constellation during January and part of February slowly approaching the principal star in

Toucan, and indeed will continue in that part of the heavens until it has nearly completed its next revolution round the sun, and again presents itself to the gaze of another Donati a few hundred years hence. AMUSING INCIDENT IN COURT.—At Duringm assizes a very deaf old lady, who had brought an action for damages against a neighbor, was being examined, when the Judge suggested a compromise, and in-structed counsel to ask her what she would take to settle matters. "What will you take?" asked the gentleman in the bob-tailed wig of the old lady.—

The old lady merely shook her head at the counsel, informing the jury, in confidence, that "she was very hard o'hearin." "His lordship wants to know what you will take?" asked the counsel again, this time bawling as loud as ever he could in the old lady's ear. "I thank his lordship kindly," the ancient dame answered stoutly, "and if it's no ill conwenience to him, I'll take a little warm ale." [Roars of laughter. - English paper.

MINNESOTA. - The latest intelligence of the late election in Minnesota is, according to Democratic authority, (the St. Anthony Express,) that the Republicans have elected to the Legislature 18 Senators and 49 Representatives, and that the Democrats have 19 Senators and 31 Representatives, giving the Republicans a majority on joint ballot of 17. It is said that a new United States Senator will be elected by this Legislature if Gov. Selby should venture to convene it; but unless he does there will be no session until after a new Legislature shall have been elected in October, 1859, as there is no constitutional provision for the meeting of the present Legislature.

The number of deaths by yellow fever in New Orleans, since it began this season is 4183.
